

FIRST CALL FOR PAPERS

FACULTY OF PHILOSOPHY, UNIVERSITY OF NOVI SAD
CENTER FOR HISTORICAL RESEARCH
DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

has the pleasure of announcing that

THE INTERNATIONAL SCIENTIFIC CONFERENCE

MIGRATIONS FROM ANTIQUITY TO THE PRESENT DAYS

WILL BE HELD FROM 14TH – 15TH APRIL 2018
AT THE FACULTY OF PHILOSOPHY, NOVI SAD, SERBIA

Migrations of people are social phenomenon. They describe the physical movement of people from one to the other area, usually over large distances. Migrations have been present since prehistoric times, while throughout historic periods they occurred in the form of voluntary migrations, within one area or between several of them, or in the form of forced migrations. Migrations include various phenomena such as development of alphabets and literacy, different cultural influences and interactions and, on the other hand, phenomena such as human slavery, poverty, persecution, ethnic cleansing etc. One of the consequences of migrations, due to different historical, social, economic and cultural diversity they conveyed, was the birth of a new multicultural heritage. The reaction of individuals and communities to such movements of people can be very different. The migrations of all kinds had an enormous impact on human history and they significantly changed the macro-world as well as the micro-world. In contemporary world, which is characterized by the mobility and information flow, migrations became an integral part of life and society. Moreover, scope and patterns of migrations become more and more complex.

Please respond to this call and send the abstract of your paper (no longer than 15 minutes), which is engaged in one of the following areas (panels):

1. FROM THE GREEK POLIS TO NEW LAND

2. UBI BENE, IBI PATRIA

3. HISTORIOGRAPHY IN EXILE

4. POLITICS AND EMIGRATION

5. ILLNESS AND MIGRATION

6. LITERATURE AND LANGUAGE OF MIGRATIONS

7. THE ROLE OF WOMAN IN MIGRATION

Abstract submission guidelines:

Working languages of the Conference are Serbian and English.

Abstract should include the following elements:

1. Name and surname of author and coauthor(s),
2. Affiliation of the author and coauthor(s),
3. e-mail address of author and coauthor(s),
4. The title of the presentation – not exceeding 15 words,
5. A clear description of the aims, methods and expected results which will be stated in the presentation – between 150 and 300 words
6. Keywords – not exceeding 5 words

Abstracts should be sent as e-mail attachments in Microsoft Word for Windows, in doc or docx formats to the Conference's e-mail address: istorija@ff.uns.ac.rs

Abstracts will be evaluated according to the originality of the theme, approach and scholar contribution of the outlined proposal.

Deadline for the submission of abstracts: 30th September 2017

Deadline for the notification of acceptance: 1st December 2017.

Other important information:

Registration fee: 25 euros (EUR), payable in Serbian dinars (RSD), which covers the expenses of promotional material, the coffee breaks and the publications of a thematic collection of double peer-reviewed papers.

We are looking forward to welcome you in April in Novi Sad!

The Organizing Committee

NOVI SAD

15TH JUNE 2017

